THREE RIVERS

Dear Friends,

CT State Three Rivers is deeply connected to the community we serve, and the partnership between the campus and the Foundation helps us strengthen that connection every day. Working alongside the Foundation Board of Directors and Office of Institutional Advancement, whose experience and relationships span our region, we are able to respond to the needs of our students, faculty, and staff, while also looking ahead to the evolving needs of our communities and workforce. Together, we create opportunities, strengthen partnerships, and help ensure CT State Three Rivers remains responsive to the people, employers, and communities we serve.

We are grateful for your partnership and your belief in the lasting impact of CT State Three Rivers.

Warm regards,

FOUNDATION

WELCOME BACK DAYS

The Three Rivers College Foundation proudly sponsored Welcome Back Week, helping create a warm and welcoming start to the academic year. Foundation Board members were on campus throughout the first week of classes, greeting students, offering encouragement, and connecting with the CT State Three Rivers community.

CELEBRATING A NEW ACADEMIC YEAR

FOUNDATION SUPPORT IN ACTION

Pictured above, Brigitte Cyr '25 received a Foundation Scholarship that made it possible to take a summer course and graduate with her Criminal Justice degree.

Nursing student Sawyer Kury '26 received Foundation scholarship support throughout his educational journey, allowing him to focus on his studies and graduate debt-free. Sawyer is pictured receiving the Ann Rosenow Award, honoring Three Rivers' first Director of Nursing, from Foundation Board Director Dr. Oliver Mayorga and Director of Nursing, Cindy Arpin.

PAUL JONES TRUST

We're grateful for the Paul Jones Trust's continued support of our Nursing Program that provides flexibility to meet needs throughout the year. This year, that included funding for second-year nursing students to attend RN Day, a statewide professional development and networking event. Support also provided gait belts that students use to safely assist patients in clinical settings, gold-plated nursing pins for fall and spring graduates as a symbol of their transition into the nursing profession, training for new nursing faculty, and professional development to strengthen nursing education.

A DAY ON THE COURSE. A YEAR OF STUDENT SUPPORT.

The 2026 Golf Classic brought together golfers, sponsors, volunteers, and friends of Three Rivers for another great day of community and support for students. Held May 11 at Great Neck Country Club, the tournament raised $62,875 in unrestricted funds for the Foundation.

Because these funds are unrestricted, they give the Foundation the flexibility to respond to student needs and opportunities throughout the year from scholarships and technology to academic support and educational experiences. What happens on the course continues to make a difference long after the final putt.

COMMUNITY FOUNDATION OF EASTERN CONNECTICUT

The Community Foundation of Eastern Connecticut understands the breadth of what students need to learn, grow, and prepare for the workforce. Their support reaches from environmental research, fieldwork, and hands-on STEM experiences to nursing education, short-term allied health, and workforce training helping students gain real-world experience and the skills they need for what comes next.

Giving, Year After Year

Some support has a long history at Three Rivers, and it continues to make a difference in new ways.

John and Mary LaMattina have supported the College for years through three endowed funds. Their continued annual giving provides technology, course materials, student programming, and other support that benefits students and the campus community.

The Booker T. DeVaughn Lecture Series is another example of an endowed fund continuing to make an impact. It brings new ideas, speakers, and opportunities to campus, creating experiences that students and the campus community can enjoy year after year.

OPENING DOORS TO OXFORD

This year, the Three Rivers College Foundation supported two students, Yash Tandon and Jennifer Bartlett-Tyler, in attending the Oxford Consortium, an experience that took them far beyond the classroom and opened their eyes to new ideas, people, and possibilities. Generous donors make opportunities like this possible.

Learning. Connecting. Growing.

Making Student Success Possible

Xio Yan Chen

(pictured left) "Finally I can buy my art board next semester!"

Jerson Soldado

(bottom left) "Opportunities like this scholarship mean a lot to me and my family."

Natianna Quinones

(bottom right) "As a nursing student, this support means so much to me and helps ease some of the financial stress that comes with furthering my education."

SCHOLARSHIP SUPPORT

DIFFERENT PATHS. SHARED SUPPORT.

After 26 years in fire and emergency services, Brian Doiron returned to school full time to pursue a new direction in health and safety with an environmental focus. He credits his classmates including his two children, who are also Three Rivers students, with helping make the transition back to college a meaningful one. For Brian, this is the next step in a new chapter, and he is grateful to those who are helping make it possible.

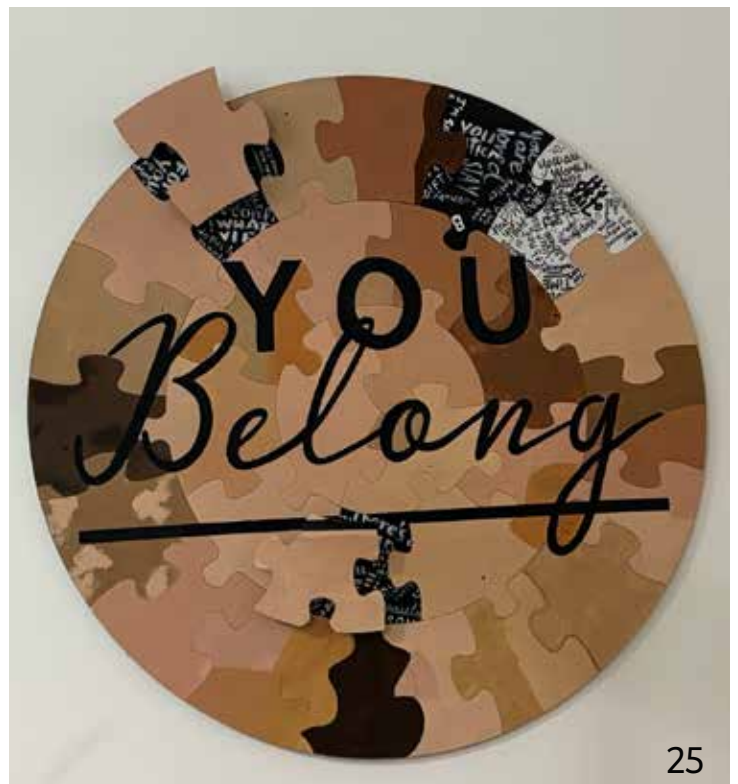

A SNAPSHOT OF SUPPORT

Community support takes many forms at Three Rivers. Rose City Network continued its support of students, adding to its established scholarship endowment while also providing flexible funding for students where it is needed most. Liberty Bank Foundation supported ExCEL instructor training and professional development, helping faculty bring new approaches back to the classroom. Charter Oak Credit Union supported Wellness Initiatives reaching more than 250 students, faculty and staff, from pre-finals massage therapy to Capy Fest, where the “You Belong” mural was created and is now permanently installed in the Mental Health Suite.

More Than Checks

Hartford Healthcare

from Classroom to Care

Hartford Healthcare/Backus Hospital's three-year, $30,000 grant is helping students prepare for careers in healthcare. The first $10,000 supported Nursing and Non-Credit Allied Health students with tuition, fees, books, uniforms, and other program expenses, along with equipment and clinical supplies for hands-on training.

Pictured are Spring 2026 Nursing graduates Jenn Porter (top) with her clinical group and Katherine Shea (bottom), both of whom were supported by the grant.

Support from donors like Foxwoods Resort Casino through its Kiosk Program gives the Foundation flexibility to respond to the needs of CT State Three Rivers throughout the year, from bookstore and student support to campus events and other needs that come up along the way.

$30K
FROM FOXWOODS

Supporting Campus Life

Foundation support reaches across the Three Rivers community, helping make campus events and initiatives possible. At the Wellness Fair event, Interim CT State President Dr. Christina Royal joined students for smoothies, while students also had the chance to stuff their own Capy Bera mascot and enjoy a mobile petting zoo. These are the kinds of experiences that bring students together and make campus life more engaging.
